

FACTS

WHAT DOES SECURITY FIRST BANK DO WITH YOUR PERSONAL INFORMATION?

Why? Financial companies choose how they share your personal information. Federal law gives consumers the right to limit some but not all sharing. Federal law also requires us to tell you how we collect, share, and protect your personal information. Please read this notice carefully to understand what we do.

What? The types of personal information we collect and share depend on the product or service you have with us. This information can include:

- Social Security number and income
- Assets and payment history
- Transaction history and credit history

When you are no longer our customer, we continue to share your information as described in this notice.

How? All financial companies need to share customers' personal information to run their everyday business. In the section below, we list the reasons financial companies can share their customers' personal information; the reasons Security First Bank chooses to share; and whether you can limit this sharing.

Reasons we can share your personal information	Does Security First Bank share?	Can you limit this sharing?
For our everyday business purposes— such as to process your transactions, maintain your account(s), respond to court orders and legal investigations, or report to credit bureaus	Yes	No
For our marketing purposes— to offer our products and services to you	Yes	No
For joint marketing with other financial companies	No	We Don't Share
For our affiliates' everyday business purposes— information about your transactions and experiences	No	We Don't Share
For our affiliates' everyday business purposes— information about your creditworthiness	No	We Don't Share
For nonaffiliates to market to you	No	We Don't Share

Questions? Call 844-277-8860 or go to www.security1stbank.com

Who we areWho is providing this notice?Security First Bank
Security First InsuranceWhat we do*How does Security First protect my personal information?

To protect your personal information from unauthorized access and use, we use security measures that comply with federal law. These measures include computer safeguards and secured files and buildings.

How does Security First collect my personal information?

We collect your personal information, for example, when you

- Open an account or deposit money
- Pay bills or apply for a loan
- Apply for insurance

We also collect your personal information from others, such as credit bureaus or other companies.

Why can't I limit all sharing?

Federal law gives you the right to limit only

- sharing for affiliates' everyday business purposes—information about your creditworthiness
- affiliates from using your information to market to you
- sharing for nonaffiliates to market to you

State laws and individual companies may give you additional rights to limit sharing. See below for more on your rights under state law.

DefinitionsAffiliates

Companies related by common ownership or control. They can be financial and nonfinancial companies.

- Security First does not share with our affiliates.

Nonaffiliates

- Companies not related by common ownership or control. They can be financial and nonfinancial companies.
- Security First does not share with nonaffiliates so they can market to you.

Joint marketing

A formal agreement between nonaffiliated financial companies that together market financial products or services to you.

- Security First does not jointly market.

Other important information

For California Residents. We will not share information we collect about you with non-affiliated third parties, except as permitted by California law, such as to service or process your transactions or to maintain your account.